HISTORICAL AND BIOGRAPHICAL NOTES

Silas Woodson was born near Barbourville, Knox County, Kentucky, to Wade Netherland and Alice Chick Woodson on May 18, 1819. He attended Kentucky schools, began studying medicine after the death of his father, but soon turned to law and politics. Woodson joined a debating club in Barbourville organized by James G. Blaine, future Speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives. The other members included Joseph Toole (Governor of Montana) and Samuel Miller, a future associate justice of the U.S. Supreme Court. Woodson was admitted to the Kentucky Bar in 1840.

On September 14, 1842 Silas Woodson married Mary Jane McRoberts in Barbourville, Kentucky. The couple had one son, Miller, before Mary McRoberts Woodson died in 1845. In 1842 at the age of 23, Woodson was elected to the Kentucky House of Representatives from Knox County. He served during the Kentucky Constitutional Convention of 1849 and was the only member to favor the gradual emancipation of slaves. Woodson remarried in 1846 to Olivia Adams and was again elected to the Kentucky House of Representatives in 1853. Silas Woodson left Kentucky, moving to St. Joseph, Missouri where he practiced law with the firm of Woodson and Hughes.

Olivia Adams died in 1865 four months after the death of Miller Woodson. On December 27, 1866 Silas Woodson married Virginia Julia Lard in Lexington, Kentucky. Virginia Lard Woodson was the daughter of renowned religious scholar Reverend Moses Easterly Lard and a graduate of Christian College, Columbia, Missouri. The couple would have three children, Mary Alice born in 1870 and twins, Silas Solomon and Virginia Lard in 1875.

Woodson supported Robert Marcellus Stewart during the 1856 gubernatorial election and in 1860, he was elected Buchanan County Circuit Court judge in the 12th Judicial Circuit. During the Civil war, Woodson supported the Union. He received the position of inspector general for the Missouri State Militia and although Woodson never served on the front lines, the rank of colonel. He was appointed assistant provost marshal in 1863; his main duty was the enactment of General Order 135 which called for the enlistment of slaves and freed blacks into the U.S. Army.

The Civil War and the resulting disenfranchisement of southern sympathizers led to a dramatic decline in the Democratic Party until 1872. The Democrats allied themselves with the Liberal Republicans and scheduled the nominating convention for Jefferson City. Woodson was elected permanent chairman of the convention. When none of the contenders garnered the required majority of votes, he made an impassioned plea for party unity, and was promptly nominated. On November 5, 1872, Woodson was elected the 21st Governor of Missouri defeating his Radical opponent John B. Henderson by almost 35,000 votes.

During his administration, he reduced the state debt, lowered the tax levy, and signed an act to authorize a popular vote for a constitutional convention. Woodson requested increased appropriations to curb bank and train robberies occurring throughout the state. The General Assembly failed to supply the necessary funds, which hampered Woodson's efforts to eradicate the outlawry and he was roundly criticized for this lack.

After his term of office, he returned to his law practice in St. Joseph. In 1880, he was elected to a four year term as judge of the Buchanan County Circuit Court; and was subsequently elected to numerous terms on the newly established Buchanan County Criminal Court. Judge Woodson suffered a cerebral hemorrhage in April 1895 and died on October 9, 1896. He is interred in Mount Mora Cemetery in St. Joseph.

RECORDS OF GOVERNOR SILAS WOODSON, 1866-1875

Scope and Content

The records are divided into five boxes. All references to places are within the state of Missouri unless otherwise noted. The spelling of proper names varies greatly. When correct spelling could not be determined the original spelling was retained. Undated material precedes dated material per each file. Elected officeholders are Missouri officials unless noted (U.S. Senator, U.S. Secretary of State, U.S. Attorney General, et cetera). State Representatives are referred to as Representative. U.S. Representatives are noted with the title Congressman.

When the collection was microfilmed, it was determined that some of the collection required rehousing. As a result, some box and folder numbers have changed. Original box and folder numbers are noted within parentheses. For example, box 2 is now box 1. Under the box heading, the new box number is listed first (original box number in parenthesis) or 1(2). Under the folder heading, 5 (3) indicates that the item originally in folder 3 is now located in folder 5.

Box 1 contains appointments, commissions, and election notices. Appointments are arranged in the following order and thereunder chronologically: adjutant general, circuit clerk, coal oil inspector, insurance, judges, miscellaneous, St. Louis police, tobacco inspector, county, and lands.

Folders include requests for positions, recommendations, and supporting petitions for notary publics, and lands. Requests for positions as the register of lands and commissioner of deeds are filed under Appointments—Lands. Appointments for judges and justices filed under Appointments—Judges. Appointments for county attorneys, prosecuting attorneys, and recorders are filed under Appointments—County. Appointments for the Missouri State Penitentiary officials, railroad commissioners, and University of Missouri officials are filed under Appointments—Miscellaneous.

Commissions files are arranged chronologically and include copies of commissions and relevant correspondence. Elections files (Elections—Counties) are arranged by county and include vacancies, notices and writs of election, newspaper clippings, and published handbills.

Box 2 contains requests for pardons, A-Ha; arranged alphabetically by prisoner surname and thereunder chronologically. The Pardons files may also include correspondence and supporting petitions. Unless otherwise noted, the State Penitentiary to which the prisoners refer is the Missouri State Penitentiary in Jefferson City. In instances where pardons were requested for more than one prisoner, the documents are filed according to the surname of the first prisoner named. Please also note that African American prisoners are referred to in official documents as “colored”.

Of particular interest is the case of Joseph P. Hamilton, the first man convicted of a 1st degree murder committed in Mercer County. Hamilton, involved in a romantic relationship with Mrs. Halleck, confessed to shooting Elisha W. Halleck in the back. Mrs. Halleck was tried as an accessory and acquitted in Putnam County, dying shortly thereafter. Hamilton, tried in Harrison County on a change of venue, was convicted and sentenced to death. According to correspondence and petitions for commutation (folders 84 and 85), Hamilton was scheduled to hang on October 30, 1874. All commutation requests were refused by Governor Woodson and Hamilton was executed.

Pardon correspondence addressed to Governor Joseph Washington McClurg, 1869-1870, pertaining to W. C. Drummond have been removed from box 2 and re-filed under RG 3.19, Joseph Washington McClurg, box 1, folder 73.

Box 3 contains requests for pardons, He-S; arranged alphabetically by prisoner surname and thereunder chronologically. The Pardons files also include correspondence and supporting petitions. In instances where pardons were requested for more than one prisoner, the documents are filed according to the surname of the first prisoner named. Convicted (1865) bank and train robber John Reno continues his requests for a pardon in folder 53. At one point, the Reno family offered to pay $5,000 (from stolen funds) to Daviess County when Reno was released. Please see also RG 3.18, Records of Thomas Clement Fletcher; RG 3.19, Records of Joseph Washington McClurg; and RG 3.20, Records of Benjamin Gratz Brown for additional Reno materials.

Box 4 contains the remaining requests for pardons, T-Z. In instances where pardons were requested for more than one prisoner, the documents are filed according to the surname of the first prisoner named. The bulk of pardons materials pertains to John Wesley Underwood, convicted of 1st degree murder in Marion County and sentenced to death. Correspondence and court documents are filed together under Pardons—Underwood. Petitions are filed under Pardons—Underwood—Petitions.

The box also contains subject correspondence files for Criminal Cases, Grand Jury, Federal, Fine Remittances, State Geologist, Railroads, and Lands. All subject correspondence is arranged by topic and thereunder chronologically unless otherwise noted.

Criminal Cases correspondence, arranged alphabetically by surname of prisoner and thereunder chronologically, may also contain extradition papers. Fine Remittances correspondence is arranged by county and thereunder chronologically. Correspondence pertaining to the certification of railroad bonds comprise the Railroad files.

State Geologist files contain correspondence from current and former state geologists G. C. Broadhead and G. C. Swallow; state geologic survey status and monthly work reports; topographic surveys; and requests for expenses reimbursement. Includes material pertaining to the location of clay, coal, iron ore, lead, and zinc deposits; current yields, and profitability.

Lands files include correspondence pertaining to the preservation of notes, maps, records and other documents for the U.S. Department of the Interior; registration of Missouri swamplands; and official Register of Lands reports.

Box 5 contains subject correspondence files pertaining to Asylums, St. Louis Police, Registrations, and Miscellaneous topics including taxation and the Missouri State Penitentiary. All subject correspondence is arranged by topic and thereunder chronologically unless otherwise noted.

The Asylum files contain a legal opinion from Missouri Attorney General H. Clay Ewing concerning Buchanan County Court's pledge of $15,000 to the Insane Asylum Commission upon location of the asylum near St. Joseph. Controversy arose over the pledge and the bulk of the correspondence pertains to this matter. State funds were appropriated in 1872 and the St. Joseph State Hospital began accepting patients in 1873. Much of the original Kirkbride Building was damaged by fire in 1879 but the Asylum reopened in 1880. Originally known as Missouri State Lunatic Asylum #2, the hospital operated in the same location until 1994. The files also contain reports, financial statements, and board minutes.

The St. Louis Police files contain correspondence focusing on the removal of Police Commissioner Julius Hunicke from his position. The folders also include witness testimonies and depositions; lists of saloons and bawdy houses operating in the St. Louis area; certified lists of those businessmen applying for dram shop licenses; alleged kickbacks and the mishandling of their cases by Hunicke; and invoices for services rendered to the police department. According to documents within these files, Hunicke resigned his commission on June 27, 1873.

Miscellaneous files contain correspondence pertaining to elections and notifications of vacancies in county offices; travel and other expenditure accounts for reimbursement; creation of the State Board of Education; call for a convention to consider moving the U.S. Capitol from Washington, D.C.; election of Lewis V. Bogy as U.S. Senator; Missouri Institution for the Education of the Blind; Missouri Institute for the Education of the Deaf; taxpayer's petitions; official reports from the State Penitentiary; adjustments in payments made to Missouri from the U.S. Department of the Interior; and the 1874 Thanksgiving Proclamation. The files are arranged chronologically and thereunder alphabetically.
